From the CEO

Timeless Recording Studio Mercury Audio Program teaches industry-level audio recording, mixing and music production skills needed to assist students with jump-starting their careers as a music producer or audio recording engineer. Our immersive training is designed to accommodate students from a variety of backgrounds. Whether or not students possess a music background, own a studio, or have never stepped foot inside of one, the Timeless Recording Studio Mercury Audio Program is ready to enhance the goals of anyone with a sincere passion to learn the art of recording.

Through our 3-month tailor-made program, students will spend four hours per week actively learning creative studio skills. This condensed approach allows the student to complete our entire curriculum in less than 13 weeks! It's as simple as that! The high-caliber program is time-tested and proven to prepare new music production professionals.

Timeless Recording Studio is equipped with the latest state-of-the-art digital production technologies and analog. Our staff has industry-supported, comprehensive expertise in guiding students through the engineering and production of all popular genres of music. We have worked with major artists such as K-Camp, Young Thug, Yo Gotti, Bun B, Pusha T, Rick Ross, Rich Homie Quan, Post Malone, and many more. Students have a chance to record in the same studio as some of their favorite artists!

After successful completion of the Mercury Program, the student will be awarded with certification and may be eligible for an internship. Once the student completes our internship program, they will be eligible for employment with Timeless Recording Studio.

Please note: Timeless Recording Studio will only accept up to three (3) students per class for an internship. Acceptance is contingent upon our own assessments.
